

PUBLIC LEDGER

SIXTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1897.

ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can give his customer free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

HECHINGER & CO.'S

FALL STYLES

Are Shown in Scores of Handsome New Cuts!

Weavers' wits were never more versatile in producing attractive toon effects. Skill in wholesale tailoring has made marvelous progress in recent years. No better evidence is needed than a critical inspection of ready-to-wear clothing made for them. There is a nicety of detail, a carefulness of finish, a symmetry of cut that denotes master minds and master hands. This not only has reference to their clothing, but also to their other different departments. Nowhere will you see so handsome a display of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, fine Shirts, Hats, Collars and Ties as Hechinger & Co. show.

Have You Looked at Their Stock of Smith & Stoughton

SHOES?

Recognizing the needs of their patrons, Hechinger & Co. arranged with Messrs. Smith & Stoughton, one of the most prominent manufacturers of fine Men's Shoes in the country, to sell their goods. See their window display of them and you will not wonder that although but thirty days elapsed since the first shipment arrived they are already doing the Men's Fine Shoe business of the town.

DIED IN THE NIGHT.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Ballenger Found Cold in Death Early This Morning.

Mrs. Sarah E. Ballenger, wife of Mr. J. M. C. Ballenger, had been ill with malarial fever some ten days, but yesterday her condition was thought to be much better.

When the family retired last night there were no unusual symptoms, and her eldest daughter, who was also ill, occupied the bed with Mrs. Ballenger.

In the night the daughter called her father to lower the window, as her mother's hand felt cold; but she was thought to be asleep—getting the rest she so much needed.

Early this morning the awful discovery was made that she was dead, the body being rigid, showing that her life had gone out several hours before.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Varian of Winchester, O., and would have been 40 years of age in December.

Besides a devoted husband she leaves five children—one son and four daughters—to mourn their untimely loss.

The sympathy of the entire community will go out to the stricken family.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been perfected when THE LEDGER went to press.

KICKERS' CORNER

If any one at any time for any reason has any cause to "kick" in any way at anything of any kind, here's the place to say his say. The door is open—with right in and help yourself, free gratis and for nothing—but don't make your "kicks" too long—it's the short, quick fellows that count—and cut.

The name of the kicker must accompany the kick, or it'll be kicked into the waste-basket.

The Kicker a day or so since remarked that the city authorities were trying to make a good gutter out of the bad gutter that had only a short time before replaced a good gutter on the North side of Second street between Court and Sutton.

The work has progressed far enough to warrant the Kicker in naming the new production.

It's a Gutteroo!

Now, a Gutteroo is a gutterette whose plane is higher in some places than it is in others; and it belongs more especially to the genus Gutter that is the offshoot—or shootoff—of the unvarying theodolitic eye of a City Councilman rather than of the wobbledebbledly uncertainties of Billy Pelham's Transit Compass.

That the Gutteroo in question is higher at its starting point than the alley or the sidewalk is a matter that carries no congealed aqua; for Eugene Robinson has arranged to have a man on the ground every time it rains whose business and duty there will be to lift the water off his sidewalk and out of the alley and dump it into the new Gutteroo-ette.

Mr. Charles M. Hancock, who has for some time been traveling for a Cincinnati house, will on the 1st of November resume his former place with the Frank Owens Hardware Company of this city.

Born, at 7 o'clock this morning, to the wife of the Rev. Boyd K. Muse, a fine daughter. Father and mother doing well, but the condition of Grandpa Ike Lane is somewhat precarious.

The social that was to have been given to the Epworth League of the M. E. Church at the home of Mr. John Walsh will take place at the home of Miss Grace Bierbower on West Fourth street this evening at 7 o'clock.

Miss Maggie Parker, aged 9 years, daughter of Mrs. Mary Parker of Prospect street, died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock of consumption. Burial this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Maysville Cemetery.

WHAT A HARVEST.

The Pickpockets Got in Their Work Most Beautifully at Augusta.

A great many people went to Augusta's Centennial Saturday, and some are glad while some are sorry.

The glad ones are the lucky fellows who enjoyed the things that were free, and the sorry ones are those who were victimized by the horde of Cincinnati thieves that were present.

THE LEDGER has secured a partial list, but does not vouch for its absolute correctness, either as to names or amounts.

Charles Kurtz, near Germantown, was robbed of $100; he went to bank and got $75 more, and was soon relieved of that also.

Leslie Poddicord, Mason county, $217.

George Barkley, Augusta, $13.

Samuel Insko, California, Ky., $17 and a watch.

George Myers, near Germantown, $72.

Mr. Broadwell, Wellsburg, $200.

Lotha Smith, Augusta, $105.

John Zech of this city, pocketbook containing a couple of German keepsake coins and a railroad ticket.

And there may have been others.

The good people of Augusta, however, are in no wise to blame for these happenings. They had advertised everything free, and there was no need for visitors to take their bank accounts with them.
